Aggie in a Nutshell

Wisconsin was her birth place.

Indiana was her saving grace.

She was so spunky.

She dressed so funky.

And sometimes she was grumpy.

She never liked to wear her teeth.

And when she had a blanket on, you knew what was underneath.

You never knew what might come out of her mouth.

She might be talking about something down south.

She had a kind heart.

And would let you know when George had to fart!

Love,

Crystal

“ Agnes was a great friend and mother in law! We shared so much laughter and good times to many to mention. You never knew just what she might say or when she always spoke her mind! She will be forever in my heart and memories of all times we shared together. Jenni Waters
