“ Many years ago now, I had an opportunity to meet "C.L." while he was employed with the First National Bank in Columbus, IN. He, as I remember, worked part-time for the bank in the Consumer Loan Department. Efficient, street smart, and always with a great sense of humor. He brought a diversified background of law enforcement, farming, and common sense to his duties. A full and fruitful life, rest in peace, "C.L."

“ Carol was a great guy to work with, he was all business but yet had a great sense of humor to go along with it. One of the best employees I ever had, he was highly respected and trusted by acquaintances and his clients. So sorry for your loss Theresa I know how close you were.
